Re: Micro-Z Unit/Stockings

Dear Sirs:

I received the above product and education on 7/6/12 for pain and numbness in my ankles and feet. The severity of my pain prior to using the stockings was 9, and that was gradual increase in pain over the past 5-8 years. Now my pain level is 3-4 in my ankles and feet.

I am not using the stockings every day now. I go about 2-3 days without using them. Then my foot pain reaches level 6-7, and I put them on again at night for about 2-3 days in a row. This procedure will relieve my foot pain back down to 3-4. This seems to be cyclical pattern at present. Some of the pain and swelling in my left leg is from my varicose veins and the stockings do not reduce this swelling or pain in the area of the veins or upper portions of my lower legs.

Of course, when my feet were worse, I could not sleep or walk as well as I can now. Unfortunately, my insomnia has other causes besides foot pain. And, my walking ability and leg pain are also effected negatively by other causes as well. However, with the stockings one painful aspect has decreased somewhat.

I appreciated Chris making regular follow up communications and explaining further aspects of the care.

Sincerely,

Clay
